

Policy Name
Sustainable Development Policies
Policy Information
Issue Date	2023
Revision Date	July, 2024
Evaluation Frequency	Yearly
Level of Confidentiality	Public
Policy Approval Date	December 30, 2024
Policy Statement
.1- Environmental Policies <ul style="list-style-type: none">-Protecting natural resources such as water, soil, and forests.-Shifting to renewable energy (solar, wind, biomass).-Reducing pollution through strict regulations on factories and waste.-Combating climate change by reducing carbon emissions.-Preserving biodiversity through the establishment of nature reserves. .2- Economic Policies <ul style="list-style-type: none">-Promoting a green economy: supporting sectors that respect the environment.-Investing in sustainable infrastructure (clean transportation, smart buildings).-Reducing poverty and unemployment by providing sustainable job opportunities.-Supporting small and medium-sized enterprises, especially those that innovate in sustainability.-Reforming tax systems to encourage positive environmental behaviors. .3- Social Policies

- Ensuring fairness and equality in education, health, and employment.
- Empowering women and enhancing their participation in development.
- Improving health services and social infrastructure.
- Combating poverty and social marginalization.
- Focusing on education for sustainable development (ESD).

.4- Institutional and Legislative Policies

- Integrating the Sustainable Development Goals into national policies.
- Promoting transparency and accountability in institutions.
- Improving governance and strengthening the rule of law.
- Establishing international and local partnerships to achieve the Sustainable Development Goals.

.5- Planning and Strategic Policies

- Developing long-term plans aligned with the 2030 Sustainable Development Goals.
- Using performance indicators to monitor progress in policy implementation.
- Engaging civil society and the private sector in planning and implementation.